

WILDFIRE RESILIENCY TRAINING CENTER

NEWSLETTER ISSUE #1

WRTC @ LCC

APRIL 2024

OUR MISSION

The Wildfire Resiliency Training Center at Luna Community College [WRTC @ LCC] aims to serve rural and underserved communities by providing accessible learning experiences rooted in upskilling and reskilling initiatives that prepare individuals for jobs in fire science and applied restoration fields. Through training, cross-agency collaboration, and community engagement, we maintain social and economic vitality, retain land-based cultural ties, expand fire-adapted practices in communities, and enhance rural working lands for the future.

Sign up for our newsletter for the most up-to-date class offerings.

Email: WRTC@luna.edu

SIGN UP NOW...

- SI30/I90 May 10, 11 17, 18
- First Aid/CPR/AED May 16

Register at WRTC@luna.edu

COMING SOON...

Applied restoration classes in land and forest management, plus wildland firefighting classes will roll out in Summer 2024. These short courses can be applied towards future Professional Certificates.

New Mexico Forest and Watershed Restoration Institute
New Mexico Highlands University

